DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-7 and 29-30, drawn to a composition, classified in class 106, subclass 14.05.
 - III. Claims 8-22 and 28, drawn to a product, classified in class 428, subclass 659.
 - IV. Claims 23-27, drawn to a process, classified in class 148, subclass 242.
2. Inventions I and II are related as composition and product made by using the composition. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the product as claimed can be made by using another materially different composition or (2) the composition as claimed can be used to make a materially different product. In the instant case the composition as claimed can be used to make a materially different product such as a corrosion resistant steel with a iron-aluminum layer having a thickness of less than 1 micron.
3. Inventions II and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process such as a process during which the iron-aluminum intermetallic layer is formed by other coating methods such as spraying or rolling.

4. Inventions I and III are related as composition and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the composition as claimed can be practiced with another materially different composition or (2) the composition as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that composition. In the instant case the composition as claimed can be used in a materially different process such as a process during which the coating composition is applied by other coating methods such as spraying or rolling.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. A telephone call was made to Avery N. Goldstein on 24 October 2005 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
